

SIKIGU

SIKIGU

BRAND STATEMENT

SIKIGU ("Shiki-gu" translates to 'Paper-Tools' in Japanese) is a brand that designs products made from paper. "Shiki-gu" considers paper as part of our daily lives.

Founded in 1919, we are based in Osaka where we have a network of printing and processing technologies. Our goal is to create a new culture of paper consumption.

"Shiki-gu" considers paper as a partner of our daily lives, reframes its core values as "deliver, contain, install", and create a new daily necessity.

PLEATS TRAY

PLEATS TRAY uses a technique called half-cut.

The paper is not punched all the way through, but is cut to a certain depth, which is arbitrarily set, to create an edgy shape.

The pleated grooves can be used to store small items and accessories that have no place in the room.

PICTURE BAR

A paper bar that holds photos and pictures. The magnet allows you to display photos and pictures without damaging them. Also comes with push pins for attaching to a wall.

Pictures, postcards, flyers, etc. can be easily displayed without using photo frames.

1

2020

令和二年

日	月	火	水	木	金	土
			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

アールズ

TWO TRAY

A tray made with two colors of paper produced by careful dyeing techniques, and bonded together by advanced Japanese box processing technology.

A texture that's soft to the touch, and colors designed to match any space, make this tray a truly special product. In Japan, our advanced box processing technology is defined by its careful attention to detail. More than the average product of this type, TWO TRAY is made by a process which cannot be done without the delicate skills and knowledge of craftsmen and architects with these special skills.

TUBE STAND

A case for small items, made through a combination of our special paper-tube processing technology, and handcraft. The perfect size for storing pens and organizing your desk. You can also combine two cases together.

ANSON
ALON
EN 77
a

PULL BOX

A file box with a handle made of paper. Not only it is easy to pull, but it also has a beautiful shape where the back cannot be seen from either side. This is a product created from the desire to have more, colorful options. Whether you buy all matching colors, or one of every kind, when put together, these boxes will make a great addition to any space.

Arita / Table of Contents

Villa Além

11" x 17" Reader
Wonderland / Alice in Spiegellaad
Asger Jorn. The Secret of Art
Big Sign - Little Building
De gans en zijn broer
Doodgewoon
User in Wien / Three Houses in Vienna
Rich Dikes / Dijken van Nederland
FRIET speciaal nr. 1
Het diner
Horizon City
I Am About To Call It A Day
Into Longing. Vast Rock
Johan van der Keuken
Volksprenten, centsprenten, schoolprenten
Kon Makandra
LaLaLa
Lex Reitsma
Ligne B
Maydan
Modern Times
Ortal Cities Forgotten Monuments
New Horizons
New Urban Configurations
Proyecto Roble
Schrofer Sketches
Sequester
The Bungalow
The 'Suit'
urenboek
Vogels hullen niet
Whispers. Ulay on Ulay
Zocherstraat 27th

SIKIGU (“Shiki-gu” translates to ‘Paper-Tools’ in Japanese) is a brand that designs products made from paper.

“Shiki-gu” considers paper as a part of our daily lives, reframes its core values as “deliver, contain, install” , and create a new daily necessity.

Founded in 1919, we are based in Osaka where we have a network of printing and processing technologies. Our goal is to create a new culture of paper consumption.

SIKIGU

<https://www.taisei-shiki.jp/?lang=en>